Program

How well prepared are you and your office staff for medical emergencies? This three-hour course is designed to satisfy the Kentucky State Dental Practice Act requirement regarding "the identification and prevention of potential medical emergencies", as required for dental hygienists to work under general supervision. Commonly encountered medical emergencies are addressed. Emphasis is placed on the immediate, non-pharmacological aspects of care.

Special Benefits

- Review basic principles of reducing risk factors, identifying signs and symptoms which may be manifest during a dental appointment and take appropriate preventive measures for selected emergency situations
- Discuss related legal issues associated with medical emergencies
- Discuss and recognize early warning signs of a variety of potential medical emergencies
- Learn what should be included in your basic emergency kit

Speaker

Ted P. Raybould, DMD, is professor in the Department of Oral Health Practice, University of Kentucky College of Dentistry. He received his dental degree from the UK College of Dentistry in 1981.
