

Friday Footnotes

August 29, 2008

Welcome Back Reception Today!

The popular chocolate fountain is returning to this year's "Welcome Back" reception. All full-time faculty and staff are invited to join in the fun today from 2 to 4 p.m. in The Commons. See you there!

Rapp Honored as Outstanding Faculty Mentor

Doris Rapp, director of the Physician Assistant Studies program, was recently honored for her hard work, dedication and service to the program. At an appreciation luncheon in her honor, Doris was presented with an outstanding faculty mentor plaque that thanked her for setting an example of "...what we aspire to be as faculty."

Faculty and staff from both Lexington and Morehead attended the appreciation luncheon.

Blood Drive

The six health colleges at UK are in a "Blood Battle."

Let's show them we're the best! Help us reach our goal of donating 50 pints of blood!

Anyone who donates will be entered for a chance to win a new Toyota Camry! Other great prizes, such as a restaurant gift cards, will be given out among CHS participants!

- September 18, 2008 --- CHS Blood Drive --- 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.  NEW TIME

Faculty Meetings Set

Please mark your calendars for these upcoming faculty meetings:

Friday, September 19 th	12-1 p.m., CTW 216
Friday, October 17 th	12-1:30 p.m., CON 505
Friday, November 14 th	12-1 p.m., CON 505
Friday, December 19 th	12-1:30 p.m., CON 505

Uhl Published in American Journal of Sports Medicine

Tim Uhl, Ph.D., was recently published in the American Journal of Sports Medicine. The publication is entitled "Electromyographic Analysis of Specific Exercises for Scapular Control in Early Phases of Shoulder Rehabilitation" and was written by Dr. Uhl, W. Ben Kibler, Aaron D. Sciascia, Nishin Tambay and Thomas Cunningham. The online version of the article can be found at <http://ajs.sagepub.com/cgi/content/abstract/36/9/1789>.

Butterfield Featured by Reuters

Dr. Butterfield's massage study continues to gain national press! Check out the link from the CHS News site: <http://www.mc.uky.edu/healthsciences/news/massage.html>

Hall of Fame

The Hall of Fame and Scholarship Recognition Dinner will be Friday, September 26 at Central Baptist Hospital.

Hall of Fame inductees are:

- Catherine Chamberlain, Communication Disorders, '75
- Chris Howell, Physician Assistant Studies, '98
- Jeff Lytle, Medical Technology, '86

Rehab Ph.D. Student Katie Yancosek will be a featured speaker at the event.

Mark your calendars now to attend. RSVP's must be received by September 17.

UK
UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY
College of Health Sciences

Hall of Fame
Scholarship Recognition Dinner

Please join us for the
UK College of Health Sciences
Hall of Fame Induction and
Scholarship Recognition Dinner

Friday, September 26, 2008
5:30 p.m. Registration
6 to 8 p.m. Dinner and Celebration at Central Baptist Hospital
Education Center (Basement)
1740 Nicholasville Road - Building E
Lexington, Kentucky 40503

Please RSVP by September 17, 2008

2008 Inductees:

Catherine Chamberlain
Communication Disorders, '75

Chris Howell
Physician Assistant Studies, '98

Jeff Lytle
Medical Technology, '86

*Complimentary valet parking will be provided at the main entrance of Central Baptist Hospital.

see blue.

www.mc.uky.edu/HealthSciences