

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, St Claire Regional Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
6:30-8:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Morehead, Kentucky is:
St. Claire Regional Medical Center: 2nd floor Conference Room
Mary Horsley, 606-783-6864

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Owensboro Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
5:30-7:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Owensboro, Kentucky is:
Owensboro Medical Center: 6th floor Education Classroom A, (Take elevator C to 6th floor)

Janine Bumm, 270-688-3057

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, the Center for Excellence in Rural Health and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
6:30-8:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Hazard, Kentucky is:
University of Kentucky Center for Excellence in Rural Health: Rm 407
Tammy Sizemore, 606-439-1559 x83445

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Murray Calloway County Hospital and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: *Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
5:30-7:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Murray, Kentucky is:
Murray Calloway County Hospital: Education Unit
Carol Perlow 270-762-1100

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Pikeville Medical Center and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
6:30-8:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Pikeville, Kentucky is:
Pikeville Medical Center Library
Brenda Adams 606-437-3931

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, the Trover Clinic and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
5:30-7:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Madisonville, Kentucky is:

The Trover Clinic: RMC Auditorium

Angel Brooks 270-824-3530

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Western Baptist Hospital and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
5:30-7:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Paducah, Kentucky is:

Western Baptist Hospital (2501 Kentucky Avenue) Meeting Room D

Meeting Room D is located on the 1st floor of Doctor's Office Building 2 & just down the hall from the Women's Center.

The local contact is Maria Hill: 270-575-2735 or maria.hill@bhsi.com

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404

The UK Sanders-Brown Center on Aging, Alzheimer's Association, Monroe County Hospital and the Kentucky TeleHealth Network present:

Education series for family members and friends of those who suffer from memory disorders

Presenters: Greg Jicha, MD, PhD and staff of the UK Alzheimer's Disease Center and the Alzheimer's Association

All programs are on Thursdays
5:30-7:00pm

October 23, 2008

- Research update: How close are we to cure really?
- Empowering you! The benefits of research participation

January 22, 2009

- (S)He's driving me nuts: Managing behaviors in Alzheimer's and dementia
- Medications that work and what you can do that may be even better?

April 23, 2009

- Ask the experts: a general Q & A for your issues!
- Our expert panel includes expertise in neurology, psychiatry, social work and the experts at the Alzheimer's Association

July 23, 2009

- Dying with dignity: Late-stage dementia care and end-of-life issues
- Palliative medical and behavioral care approaches

REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY Please confirm your attendance by registering with the Alzheimer's Association at 800-272-3900. Sites without registrants will cancel their participation in this event.

Your community location in Tompkinsville, Kentucky is:
Monroe County Hospital; Education Conference Room
Susan Clarkson/Laura Emmert 270-487-9231 x1190

Any other questions may be directed to the Kentucky TeleCare office at 859-257-6404