Announcement

Please distribute this announcement to anyone who may qualify.

It is my pleasure to announce the availability of the Paula Fritz Patient Education Award from the University of Kentucky Saha Cardiovascular Research Center. Available is one $1,000.00 unrestricted award recognizing a nurse or team of nurses that display creativity and innovation in their field.

Qualified applicants should submit the application describing a new project or approach to patient education in a cardiovascular population (must have been implemented within the last 2 years) and provide outcomes and data before and after implementation of the project. Two letters of recommendation are required at time of submission.

Applications are due no later than June 1, 2011. Winners will be notified by August 2, 2011.

The award will be presented at the University of Kentucky Gill Heart Institute Cardiovascular Research Day on Friday, October 21, 2011 at the Lexington Convention Center. Further details regarding the awards presentation will be communicated to award winners, who must be in attendance. (For teams – at least one representative must be present at awards ceremony.)

To be considered for this award, please submit all required materials to:
