From the Desk of the Chair

As another summer begins its transition into autumn, I am reminded that my third anniversary as Department Chair approaches. As such, it seems appropriate to celebrate our people. To paraphrase Dr. Michael Karpf, Executive Vice President for Health Affairs, UK is all about the people, not the bricks and mortar. The human element is critical to our daily individual and collective successes. It might surprise you that we have almost 300 people working in and for the Department of Radiology at its multiple campuses and practice sites. Approximately half are technologists; we have ~60 physicians, ~15 nurses, and ~70 in various support roles. Some (~20) are new to UK, while others (~10) are well-seasoned veterans with more than 30 years on the job. I personally thank each and every one of you for continually striving to improve our patient care services. Together, we will make UK Radiology the best it can be.
