

Healthy Adult Volunteers Needed to Donate Blood

University of Kentucky researchers Richard Eitel, Ph.D. of the University of Kentucky, College of Engineering and Andrew Bernard, M.D. from the Department of Surgery are conducting a clinical research study about how we measure severe systemic inflammation and sepsis.

You may be able to participate if you:

- are a healthy adult;
- are 18 years of age or older;
- are not pregnant; and
- are interested in contributing to the knowledge that may help persons with sepsis.

Qualified participants in this study will have a 30-minute visit and will be compensated for participation.

For more information or to schedule
an appointment contact:

Joy Wilson

Phone: 859-323-4775

An Equal Opportunity University

www.UKclinicalresearch.com